Notes for DMs

- Designed for zero preparation time -you and your players can meet each stage for the first time together.
- Balanced for a party of level 3 adventurers.
- This is module #3 of the campaign of 20 chapters -one for each character level.
- Got your players ready? Head to P.2 and read the paragraph aloud!

Adventure Overview

The Story So Far...

As you read the recap, show your players Handout #1 in the appendix, pointing out locations accordingly.

As you may remember, you have been busy in the usually peaceful part of the Delimbiyr Vale on the Iron Road and around Uluvin -a village on the grassy plains between the Forlorn Hills to the West and the High Forest to the East. Eager to earn some gold adventuring, you've helped the village to deal with an ogre and some kobolds, visited Secomber and Unicorn Run and journeyed through the Forlorn Hills -there you sought out a silver dragon who commissioned you for a quest in the High Forest. You also have a new responsibility: feeding and training up Cupruluviniax, a tiny copper dragon hatchling. You may also recall that there have been foreboding reports of strange goings-on in the High Forest. There have been many more merchant caravans heading into the High Forest recently, some carrying weapons and armor and at least one carrying metallic dragon eggs. Further to this, a few of weeks ago a gigantic dragon flew overhead.

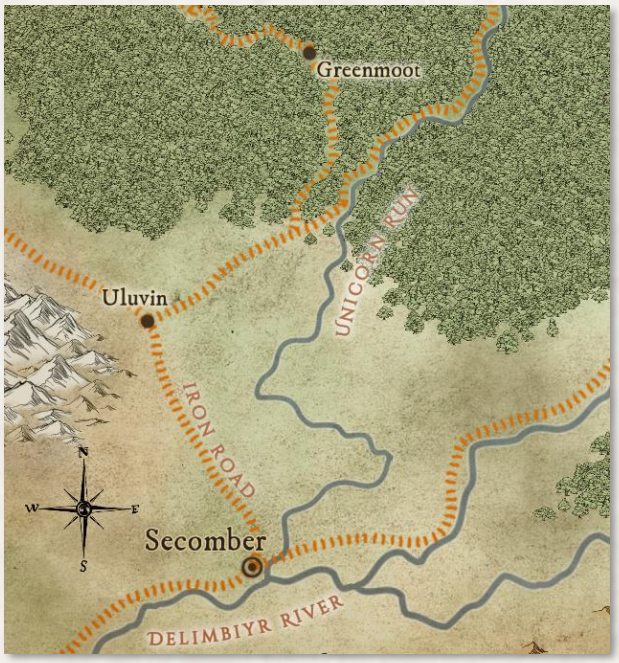
The Trail to the High Forest

...and so, after a few nights in The Black Bull's Tail to rest from your previous excursions, Aubrey, Uluvin's speaker, having listened with enjoyment to your exploits, noted that you were looking for work in the High Forest, and one morning, at breakfast arrives at your table.

Aubrey knows of these jobs, if they wish:

- Torrel of Uluvin's apothecary has a list of herbs he needs from the forest. Handout #3 is Torrel's list; he's offering nine magic potions as payment.
- Magrat at Wen's Wagons is offering them a job escorting a caravan to Greenmoot as Caradoc and his crew are unavailable.
- Also, Aubrey hands them a scroll (see Handout #2 - it's apparently in code -see sidebar on P.3) from Owen to Fenyg -a gnome who lives deep in the forest along Unicorn Run, due east of Greenmoot.

These tasks are summarized on the next page.

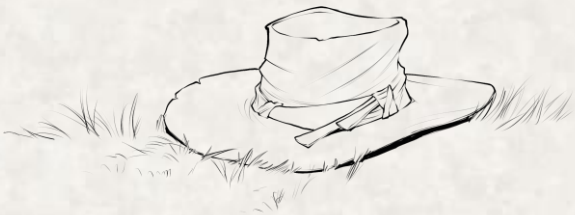


Tasks:
Escorting the wagons: 50gp per person
Payment on safe arrival in Greenmoot by the lead driver

Delivering Owen's Letter: flat fee of 100gp
Payment by Aubrey on their return to Uluvin

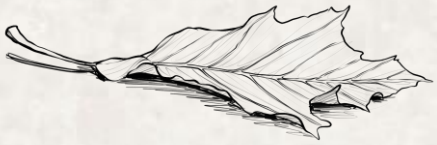
Collecting ingredients for the apothecary:
an assortment of 9 magic potions
Torrel will hand them these once they deliver his ingredients

You strike out once more from Uluvin, alongside the three wagons. The lead driver, a gnome called Norris with a round belly and beady little eyes is obviously disappointed that Caradoc isn't the escort. "Very courteous, Mr Caradoc is. …and knows how to handle bandits, he does.", before giving you all a dubious look. The other drivers are two dwarves called Mutt and Dywern, although some of you find it tricky to tell which is which.



Establish the position of each PC for each day's journey. They could ride on one of the dwarfs' wagons with a successful persuasion check (DC 12) –with advantage if the PC is a dwarf. The wagons are all carrying pieces of plate armor, crates of heavy scimitars, locks and chains. Show the players Handout #4, establish their positions and any sentry order through the night, if they wish. Also check if they want a campfire.

The first day's journey is peaceful. A couple of other caravans pass in the other direction and have no reports of difficulties. Eventually, when the sun is beginning to dip, the wagons turn off the road slightly next to a small circle of ash trees and they set up camp. "Well?", says Norris, looking at you, "Look sharp. I needs to get my beauty sleep I does. Caradoc would've set up a watch by now.", before climbing into his bedroll under the canvas which the dwarfs have quickly erected.



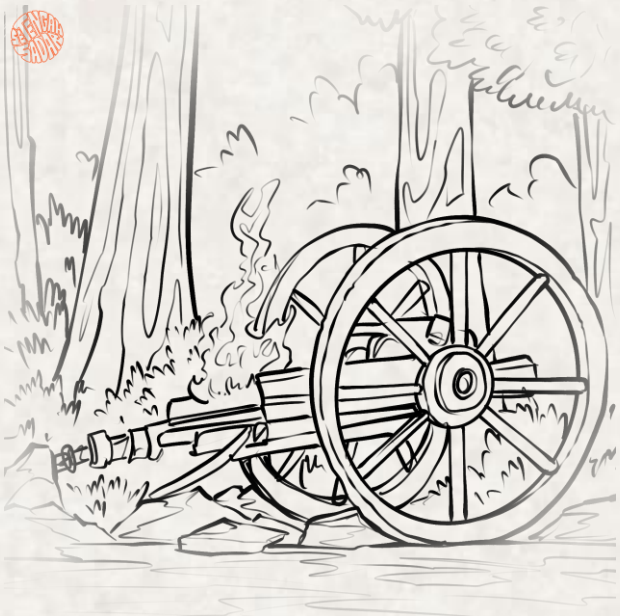
Owen's Letter to Fenyg Unravelled:

Fenyg:
The Harpers say no. I am sorry, but I will do what I can. For now I am sending you this band of well-meaning puppies. They are not up to much now, but their hearts are in the right place.

Yours, Owen

Owen has rather a crass sense of humor which is misplaced at times. He is always on the lookout for fresh talent and has given the PCs a code simple enough to crack. With a bit of time and DC 15 Intelligence check a character would notice that the letters in each word are jumbled up. Let the players decode it themselves if they'd enjoy that, otherwise feel free to read the correct version aloud.

When they are getting to nearer midnight, roll for stealth for a group of elf scouts against the perception of whoever is on watch, if anyone. There are two elf scouts per PC. These elf scouts have a mission from their noble to hinder caravans carrying weapons and armor to Greenmoot. They are trying to sneak into the camp and steal the mules or, failing that, burn the wagon wheels by pouring oil on them and lighting it. They would avoid direct combat and withdraw into the night if needed. They have a vial of oil and a tinderbox each.



Note: Cupruluviniax is growing and her stats upgrade each chapter of the campaign to reflect this.

If they lose any carts or mules, their pay would be halved and some of the group might have to take 2 days and one night to return to Wen's Wagons in Uluvin to collect and return with replacements. Norris would repeatedly point out that this wouldn't have happened with Caradoc and his crew. If this happens, assume no encounters for the group returning, but whoever remains on site to guard would have to fend off a scavenging pair of Giant Badgers sniffing for campsite scraps.

Following this, they still have two more days' journey ahead and one night out before they arrive at Greenmoot. Roll or choose on the encounter table twice a day and run the night encounter accordingly (P.8). Use Handouts #5 or 6 if you need a battlemap.

Events Table (either choose or roll)

1d6	Encounter/Event
1	All seems well
2	Fallen tree
3	Webs
4	Tree guardian
5	Redcap
6	Herd of deer

All Seems Well

No encounter; read the paragraph:

> This stretch of the journey seems peaceful and goes well. The forest is beautiful here. The wildlife is a little subdued and, apart from insects, you don't see many animals. Even Norris seems to be in a slightly better mood.

Fallen Tree

The track through the forest turns a corner and 60 ft up ahead a large tree trunk lies across the track. If they investigate, they roll for Perception/Investigation:

Roll	What is known
20+	In addition to the reference below, you spot signs that some furry ambushers attacked from the trees.
15-19	It looks like the dead tree was deliberately felled across the track. You can see scuff marks and an old trace of blood. It looks like there was an ambush.
Below 15	You can't really tell

Unless they use the mules to pull, moving the tree off the track is a DC 15 Strength check.

Ruslan Kim Studio

Webs

With a Passive Perception of 14, any characters near the front would notice very fine threads strung across the track up ahead. They would have one round before the lead mule and cart reach it.

About two rounds after the webs are disturbed, a giant spider would stealthily descend down a thread above the rear wagon and attempt to grapple, restrain and escape back up into the canopy with Mutt, the dwarf driver.

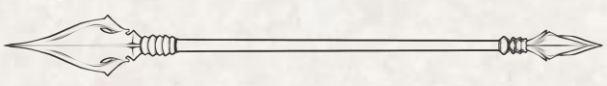
Actions

Bite. Melee Attack Roll: +5, reach 5 ft. Hit: 7 (1d8 + 3) Piercing damage plus 7 (2d6) Poison damage.

Web (Recharge 5–6). Dexterity Saving Throw: DC 13, one creature the spider can see within 60 feet. Failure: The target has the Restrained condition until the web is destroyed (AC 10; HP 5; Vulnerability to Fire damage; Immunity to Poison and Psychic damage).



Tree Guardian

Read the paragraph and run the combat:

> You've been travelling for a few hours without incident when Norris announces that the mules need a rest. At a slightly wider stretch of the trail which has a small amount of grass growing, the wagons pull up. Before long, the mules have had a draught of water and are munching at the grass. Mutt reclines against one tree trunk and Dywern wanders over to do the same. As soon as he leans against it, the tree moves and he calls out.

Redcap

> Thump! Thump! Thump! You look around quickly to find the source of this racket and see, stomping up towards you, is what looks like an enraged pixie creature with big black boots and a large red hood. The sight would be hilarious were it not for it's expression of pure hatred and the wicked sickle that it wields. "You're next!" it cries, pointing it's sickle at you and rushing forwards, stomping with it's boots.

Ironbound Pursuit. The redcap moves up to its speed to a creature it can see and kicks with its iron boots. The target must succeed on a DC 14 Dexterity saving throw or take 20 (3d10 + 4) bludgeoning damage and be knocked prone.

Herd of Deer

With a Passive Perception of 14, any character would be able to spot a small herd of four deer resting under some bushes 60 ft to the left of the trail. After a few days of trail rations, the thought of some spit roasted venison would appeal to both the adventurers and the drivers.

Night in the Forest

When it's time for sleep, Norris finds a suitable place to set up camp. Establish positions for each PC overnight - see Handout #7.

In the middle of the night, whoever is on watch (if anyone) would hear a terrifying screech echo through the woods. On a DC 15 Nature check, they would guess that that was an owlbear announcing it's kill.

Much later on in the night, an owlbear and two owlbear cubs would attempt to kill and make off with one of the mules. Roll to contest stealth with the perception of anyone who is awake and then run the encounter accordingly. When all the characters are engaged in the fight, the adult owlbear would give a piercing screech for the cubs to withdraw (Roll for persuasion against the cubs' Wisdom for them to obey -repeat the roll [now intimidation] each round until they do so. If they can, they would withdraw).

Greenmoot

In the early evening of the third day, if all has gone well, they would arrive at Greenmoot.

> Your first inkling that Greenmoot is up ahead is the smell of roasting boar and woodsmoke being carried on the wind. After a while you can hear music. Eventually, you see the wooden stockade walls and the sentry post. Norris gets out his paperwork, halts his cart and heads over to the two guards. After a short discourse, which includes, from what you can pick up, him grumbling about you as an escort -this is confirmed when both guards look at you and then chuckle before nodding to Norris and swinging open the gates.

Norris would, grumbling, pay the characters their wages and then lead the caravan to the yard. This would leave the characters to perhaps either head to The Happy Hog (the Beer Tent), explore the site or to find a suitable place within the walls to set up their camp -give the players Handout #8.

Some of the adventurers may have briefly visited before. Greenmoot itself is a busy trading post and supply station under the Montfort banner -the castle itself is west of here. There is a mix of humans, dwarfs and halflings; any characters not of these races will be stared at with some suspicion. Female characters, particularly if human/similar, would also receive extra attention. Apart from the drivers and cooks, most people carry weaponry.

The next page shows a plan of Greenmoot with the locations indicated -see subsequent sections when the characters visit a key location.

This next part is run as a 'sandbox' and the characters can choose to do their tasks/visit locations as they wish. When you are ready to conclude the module and consider they are ready to level up to 4, run the 'Epilogue' on P.21.

Adjutant's Tent

Mortimer is Lord Montfort's adjutant and right-hand man. Although loyal to his lord, Mortimer loathes his visits to Greenmoot and rarely is on site, ceding most tasks to Ozvius (commomer), his clerk. Ozvius sleeps in a room at the back. There tends to always be at least one guard present. Ozvius likes to stick to his schedule and has his meals at the same time each day at the kitchen. At 8pm each evening he has a mug of warm goat's milk at the Happy Hog before retiring for bed.

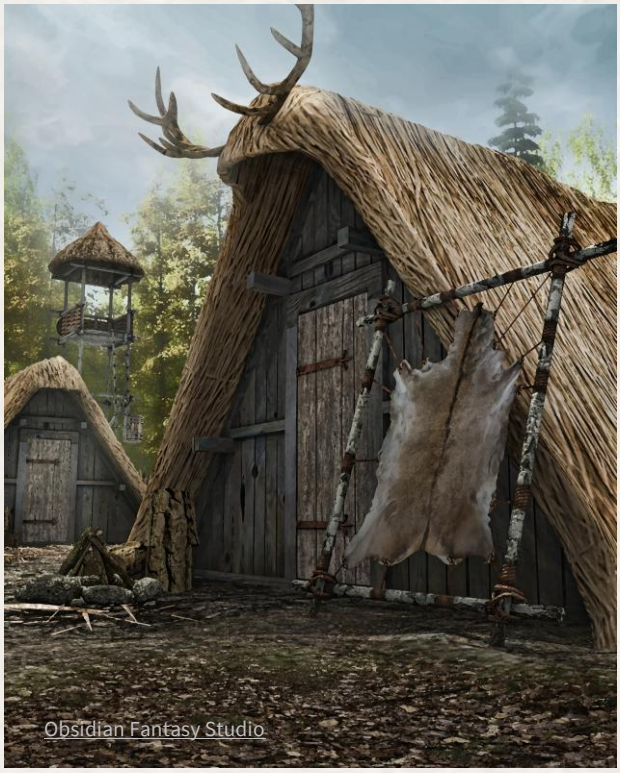
The are various cabinets which hold information on Greenmoot's operations if they might find if they searched the offices. If so, they would roll for Investigation:

Roll	What is known
20+	As below, but you also see that some items are destined for Castle Montfort and others are shipped out to an unmarked destination elsewhere in the forest.
15-19	As below and you find ledgers that contain detailed notes on all items coming into and out from the camp - enough to equip an army. A lot of food - fish and game, are being caught, stored and shipped out. You also spot a small, locked box that seems to be for petty cash [the lock is DC 12 or could be broken open with the right tool; the box contains 2d20 gp, 1d20 sp and 1d20 cp].
10-14	You find papers that write about weapons, armor and equipment coming into and leaving the site
Below 10	You can't really tell
Natural 1	You accidently knock over a small cabinet which breaks with a smash



Fighting Ring

Late each evening a crowd of people gather around the wooden stage to watch, shout, cheer and gamble while an unarmed volunteer and a wild animal of some kind or forest dweller attack each other.

Run this section if the characters arrive here in the late evening:

> As you approach the arena, cheers go up. It looks like a large human, or perhaps a half giant, has just won a fight -a semi conscious giant goat is being dragged off to one side.
>
> A dwarf hops into the ring and places a hand on the contender "Let's hear it for Jed!" Cheers go up around the crowd and you can see money changing hands. "…and for our next round, do we have anyone willing to fight this wretched creature?!" and with that he points to a writhing gnoll bound by ropes and held by two thick set men.

The players can just watch, participate if they wish - after each fight, new contenders from the crowd are invited to step up or gamble on the outcome.
The fighting rules are simple: no weapons or magic and a knockout is a win. Volunteers, win or lose, get an ale and a hunk of bread at the Hog and 5 gp per 1CR of the opponent (minimum 5gp) if they win.

If they don't volunteer themselves, an off duty guard (use thug stats and fights unarmed) will climb into the ring to fight the gnoll (use normal stats for the gnoll, it attacks with a bite and has an AC of 13 as no shield).

Note:

- You may wish to halve hit points and/or double damage for both to speed things up.
- Stat blocks for this encounter are in the appendix.
- Perhaps get a player to 'run' each NPC in the matches.

The gambling mechanic: they could find someone in the crowd to bet on the outcome. Odds are 2:1 (or 3:1 with a successful DC 15 Persuasion, Intimidation or Deception Check). This table gives suggestions for further rounds on this or future evenings:

Fire Pit

By day this is used to dry and cure meats; by night this typically has a group of folk drinking, arguing and singing while those who have instruments play songs. When they first arrive in the evening, a bard is mid song about an incident when, during a fight with Tiamat, a rogue crept around behind her and dealt a deadly blow from beneath with a rapier. The crowd join in the chorus of this bawdy song with great hilarity at their wit.

Guard's Quarters

These large tents are where the 30-40 guards are barracked. It varies as they are constantly on rotation escorting wagons deeper into the forest. The tents stink of old sweat. The guards loathe being stationed here (2 weeks at a time), count down the days before they return to the castle and, when not on duty, sleep, eat and drown their consciousness at the Hog, which is the usual location for Captain Thome (Mortimers's long suffering second in command).

"Hell's Kitchen"

The camp slop house received it's hilarious nickname after the person who runs it, a tiefling called Huwell. A bowl of grayish beige soaked oats is dished out for a copper piece each. When there's a surplus of game, though, he does a magnificent spit roast over the communal fire pit for 1 sp a serving.

The Happy Hog

Gelta (the orc pictured above; if needed use berserker stats P.32) took over ownership of the Happy Hog after a terminal disagreement with the previous landlord. A retired adventurer, her greataxe is close at hand for keeping the rowdy clientele in order.

Here is a great place for the characters to hear snippets of information -either roll or choose what rumors they hear; they hear more if they are persuasive or buy patrons drinks [note: maybe try to spread them out over their time on site instead of a single 'lore dump'].

The first sentence is what they initially hear. If the character tries to find out more, on a DC 15 Persuasion Check (advantage if they are bought a drink/meal) reveal the second part. If they roll a natural 1, that patron will get suspicious and ask angrily and loudly if they are snooping for the 'forest folk'.

Roll 1d8	Rumor/Conversation overheard
1	A gigantic black dragon was spotted flying over the forest. Some guards say it's an ancient black dragon that's set up it's lair in Star Mounts.
2	The paladin that was here hasn't settled his bar bill with Gelta. All high and mighty too; he was not from around here and was asking a few too many questions about the castle and the wagons.
3	Some of the trees are alive. This guard is very drunk and has been at Greenmoot too long.
4	A mad black dragonborn was seen attacking an elk. The man who said this seems to be telling the truth. He was marching past with his troop at the time so didn't see any more.
5	Mortimer, who runs the camp, is a ruthless killer. The guards are obviously scared of him. Apparently, he executed two guards for falling asleep on their watch.
6	My cousin trains dragons at the castle. The person who said this is boasting but seems to be telling the truth. Apparently, they have young gold dragons and are training them to carry soldiers.
7	Lord Montfort is a werewolf. Roll an Insight Check DC 10. On a fail, they seem to be convinced of this. On a success, it sounds like they are just scared of him.
8	The fastest way to make money is to catch a live dragon and sell it to de Montfort. They think this because they saw a group of bounty hunters bring a live young bronze dragon in a cage to Montfort Castle.

Add these in whenever suitable:

Cupruluviniax

> [Read this to the character carrying the hatchling -even if the hatchling is hidden]
> A shifty looking man walks up to you, looks around and, out of the side of his mouth, says "'ere, 'ow much for yer dragon? I'll give yer fifty gold."

After you've role played the rest of that scene, later that night, the man (commoner, but under the influence of Gelta's Moonshine so poisoned) will attempt to steal Cupruluviniax.

Hunting Game

> A dwarf pulls up a stool and sits down at your table. "Gelta said there were new folks in. Hullo, I'm Wullie; I run the sports here.. at the fighting ring. We pay good gold for forest vermin; bring us a beastie that folks can fight, alive and kicking mind, and in good shape, and we'll agree a price."

After he's fielded any of their questions, he'll head off.

Drinking Contest

> [select a character at random] Something small and hard hits you on the back of the head. When you turn around, you see Caradoc and his crew leering at you all with some of them laughing. "Oi weasels," he shouts across the bar, "Reckon you can handle your drink? I've got 20 gold here that says that you can't. What say we line up the Moonshine…or are you chicken?"

Caradoc is trying to goad them into a drinking contest; him versus one of them -they would take it in turns to drink a shot of Moonshine and the loser is the one who passes out first. He has a Constitution Saving Throw of +5. It's up to them how they respond to the challenge. If needed, his stat blocks are in the appendix P.33. In the event of a fight, Gelta would intervene after 1 round and guards would arrive after 3 rounds.

Alive & Kicking

> A burly man strides over to your table and sits down with a nod. "Doric, quartermaster" he says, by way of introduction. "We're behind on our meat order this month. If you're here looking for coin, we pay well for any game you bring us." …and then he gets out a piece of parchment and reads "Boar 30gp, deer 10gp and elk 40gp." And then he looks up again, "Anything else that's meat and dead, bring it in and we'll agree a price. Whether its traps or bows, we're not fussy. You'll find me at the warehouse."

Wullie will head off once they've finished. He will pay them the XP of a creature in gp (eg Dire Wolf is 200 XP; if caught and in good condition, they'd receive 200 gp).

"The Warehouse"

When wagons are unloaded on arrival, everything is stored here under the eye of the quartermaster, Doric. There are 4-8 guards present, depending on the value of stock at that time -even more if there are dragons eggs in. All equipment, weapons and armor are available here to buy at the price in the Players' Handbook.

If the characters break in and look around, roll for Investigation/Perception for each specific item they are searching for. If they are just looking generally, roll on the random crate and barrel tables.

Roll	What is known
20+	You find Doric's clipboard -with this you can work out where everything stored is.
15-19	After opening 2 random crates or barrels, if its present, you find what equipment you're looking for
Below 14	Open 1d6 random crates or barrels
Natural 1	You knock over a suit of armor.

Random Table: Crate

Viktor's Vanities

Despite his appearance -short, bearded and stocky and with points on his ears, Viktor is human. A magical accident changed the shape of his ears, and he hasn't been able to reverse them despite being a proficient spell caster (illusionist stats P.37). He is currently lying low, making the most of Greenmoot's tax free status and avoiding the authorities -he's wanted in three towns on the Sword Coast on charges of bigamy.

His shop is protected with Gylphs of Warding (explosive runes -cold damage) -pilferers will have a 1 in 6 chance of setting one off with every surface/object they touch.

He has various magical items on sale:

Item	Cost (gp)

If they wish to sell magic items, he would be keen to see what they have, but would offer buy them at around half the value -perhaps use this link of Sane Magical Prices as a general guide.

Stables

More of a small pen as opposed to stables, these are the closest Greenmoot has to cells. Captain Thome typically orders petty offenders to spend the night here as punishment unless they can pay his 'fine' -most of which will go into his pocket. The fine is higher depending on the offence and how rich the perpetrator appears to be. Mules and other animals are tethered near the grass outside.

Into The High Forest

Potential Tasks in the forest:

- Letter to Fenyg at Unicorn Run
- Collecting the apothecary's herbs
- Hunting or Trapping:
    - Catching game for Doric
    - Catching quarry live for Wullie

For every morning, afternoon or night the characters spend in the High Forest, roll once on the encounter table (P.20) and run that scene accordingly.

Letter To Fenyg

They know that Fenyg lives along the Unicorn Run so they would head out east and begin their search there. As there is no clear trail east, they would take about two days to get there. To go in the correct direction, each half day's travel they need to succeed on a Survival or Nature Check DC 10, otherwise they only go half the distance. Once they reach Unicorn Run, Fenyg, having heard that they are on their way, will find them.

> "Ah, well met travellers!" You look around for the crackly voice that's just called out over the sound of the flowing waters and see the friendly face of an old gnome. "A little bird told me you were on your way, so I came to look for you. Now… I believe you have brought me a letter?".
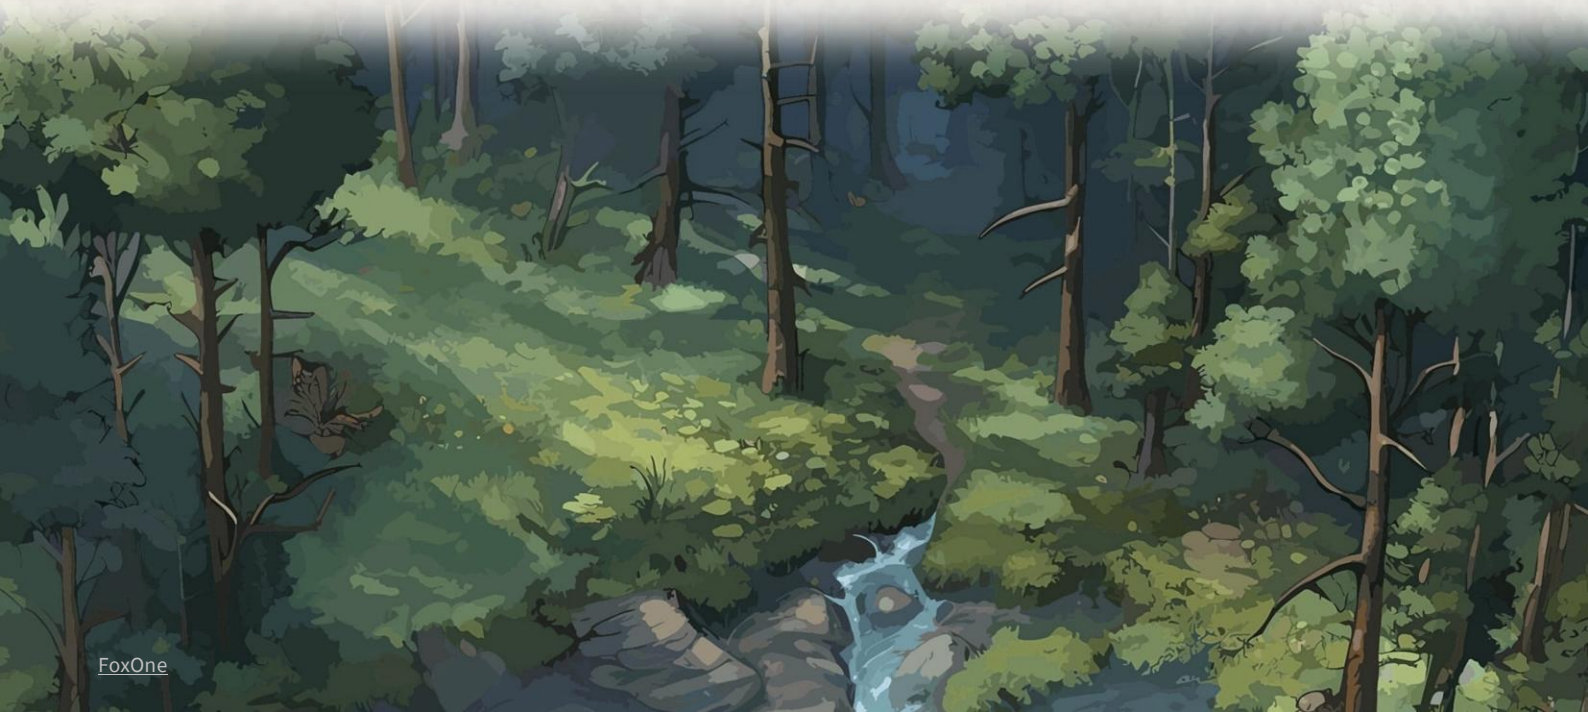
> When he unfolds it and reads it, his expression turns to anger. "Fickle Harpers! …backbiting with their petty squabbles. So, they won't come and turn the dark tide before it becomes too strong. When it reaches their cities, it'll be too late."
>
> "Our dear friend Owen hasn't lost his sense of humor then", he adds, looking at you. He looks at each one of you, taking you in. After a long pause he says, "Will you join me for a cup of tea? No milk, though, I'm afraid. This way." …and with that, he turns and begins to walk upstream.



FoxOne

Assuming they follow, read this next section:

> "You'll have to excuse the wet." An hour or so's trek later, you are sat around on logs in a drippy cave whilst Fenyg heats up some water in a small copper cauldron and adds a few dried leaves.

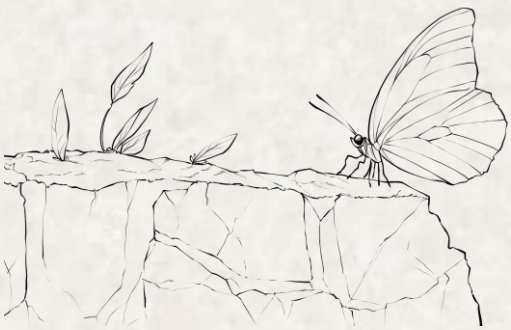
In the conversation that follows, Fenyg will wish to enlist their help to the cause of the High Foresters - either by making them aware of the evil at work, or by paying them in emeralds, or both. Use whichever you need to motivate them, depending on your particular characters.

He tells them that:

- The High Forest is being plundered for meat - he suspects it is to feed a growing army of dragonfolk somewhere in the forest.
- At Montfort Castle they are corrupting young metallic dragons -Fenyg himself encountered a gold dragonborn that had somehow been "turned" and only narrowly escaped. He emphasizes the danger of approaching the castle.
- Sânapana, [pronounced 'Shanapan'] his patron, has told him that a colossal black dragon and a fallen angel have used the Glade of Life to make a new race and then turned it into a desolate wasteland
- A mighty red dragon attacked an elven town, burning it to the ground, along with acres of ancient forest

If the characters ask how they can help, he would tell them that when the time comes, he will call upon them. He also tells them to keep an eye out for a paladin of Bahamut who is travelling to Greenmoot. Fenyg invites them to stay the night if they wish, or they can head off immediately. On their departure, he says these words:

> "Sânapana the Wise has seen you defeat these great serpents and the fallen angel that walks amongst them. You will have many tribulations, but you will overcome."



Collecting Herbs

Whenever they are in the High Forest and they are searching around for the herbs in their vicinity, ask them to do a Nature Check DC 15 (give advantage if they search for a long time), you roll a 1d6 and check the table -on a 20 or higher, you choose an extra herb. On a successful roll, they'd identify the plants.

1d6	Plant/Fungi on list in location:
1	None seem to be here
2	Dog's Hair
3	Swamp Rose
4	Shrieker fungus
5	Kufa
6	Sleeping Willow

If they ask Fenyg for help, he'd point out the Swamp Rose and Sleeping Willow growing on the banks of Unicorn Run.

The shrieker fungus will attract the attention of nearby territorial goblins (2 per character), attacking with bows from cover in 1d4+2 rounds. These goblins have daubed themselves with distinctive red dye -locals would know that they are from the notorious Heemo tribe. Use Handout #9 if needed.

Trapping Game

If they decide to catch animals (dead or alive) by traps, ask them to roll Nature/Survival/Perception Check DC 15 -on a successful roll, they'd notice anything that is present. Roll any dice: on odds, they don't see evidence of anything worth trapping; on evens, they can see game trails in this area.

Whoever is setting the trap describes the type of trap they are attempting and then ask them to roll a Survival Check to make it -you decide the DC depending on their chosen complexity and materials available for the trap to be viable. Only DC 5 if they use a purchased hunting trap. Also decide how many of these they set in the time.

Each viable trap set overnight has a 20% chance of success. However, Ursulae will free any animals they see caught in a trap, so for every animal caught, roll one more dice: if odds, Ursulae don't see it and the animal remains caught; if evens, the animal is released -an Investigation/Perception Check would reveal clues as to what happened:

Roll	What is known
20+	A small group of creatures with thick fur have climbed down from the trees and freed the wild boar
15-19	A wild boar was caught, but someone or something has deliberately broken the trap to release it
Below 15	You can't really tell, but the trap is now broken. Maybe the animal was too strong for the trap.

If successful, to decide what is caught, roll a 1d6:

1d6	Caught in Trap
1-3	deer
4/5	boar
6	elk

Epilogue

Run this when you are ready to conclude the module and consider they are ready to level up to 4.

There's a clamor of shouting at the main gate, plus cries of men in pain. A nearby shout rings out "Get water and cloths, quick!" and the sound of weapons being drawn and people running.

Assuming they investigate (or simply hear about it later in the bar), a patrol of guards was attacked by, what they describe as, a monster which savaged them. Of the eight guards, two were killed almost immediately and two were severely wounded.

Piecing together the description is difficult, as the surviving guards are still in shock. It sounds like they were attacked by a ferocious black reptile that walks "on two legs, like a man!"

That night the chatter in the Hog is all about what may or may not have happened, and what the creature is. No wagons have headed out since then as Captain Thome isn't taking any chances but has apparently sent word to Montfort. He has been attempting to assure the guards that everything is fine, despite having the air of someone about to throw up. Bounty hunters are drawing up a price list for the reward for retrieving the guards' bodies and killing the beast.
In the morning you are woken early by the blast of a military trumpet. Guards run around shouting "All able-bodied men on parade!" You hear feet run up to your tents and a bellow: "Oi, you lot, get up! Mortimer's here and he's got a small army with him. He's ordered everyone to muster…you too. Look sharp!"

…and they level up! Cupruluviniax has been growing and her stats will increase too. Ask every character to do an Animal Handling Check. Whoever gets the highest is her preferred "parent" for the next adventure and she will skuttle over to them; she will shun/periodically hiss at whoever got the lowest.

Magic Items

Arrow +1, +2

Weapon (Ammunition), Uncommon, Rare
You have a +2 bonus to attack rolls and damage rolls made with this piece of magic ammunition. Once it hits a target, the ammunition is no longer magical.

Driftglobe

Wondrous Item, Uncommon
This small sphere of thick glass weighs 1 pound. If you are within 60 feet of it, you can command it to emanate light equivalent to that of the Light or Daylight spell (your choice). Once used, the Daylight effect can't be used again until the next dawn. You can issue another command as a Magic action to make the illuminated globe rise into the air and float no more than 5 feet off the ground. The globe hovers in this way until you or another creature grasps it. If you move more than 60 feet from the hovering globe, it follows you until it is within 60 feet of you. It takes the shortest route to do so. If prevented from moving, the globe sinks gently to the ground and becomes inactive, and its light winks out.

Dust of Dryness

Wondrous Item, Uncommon
As a Utilize action, you can sprinkle a pinch of the dust over water, turning up to a 15-foot Cube of water into one marble-sized pellet, which floats or rests near where the dust was sprinkled. The pellet's weight is negligible. A creature can take a Utilize action to smash the pellet against a hard surface, causing the pellet to shatter and release the water the dust absorbed. Doing so destroys the pellet and ends its magic. As a Utilize action, you can sprinkle a pinch of the dust on an Elemental within 5 feet of yourself that is composed mostly of water (such as a Water Elemental or a Water Weird). Such a creature exposed to a pinch of the dust makes a DC 13 Constitution saving throw, taking 10d6 Necrotic damage on a failed save or half as much damage on a successful one.

Helm of Comprehending Languages

Wondrous Item, Uncommon
While wearing this helm, you can cast Comprehend Languages from it.

Javelin of Lightning

Weapon (Javelin), Uncommon
Each time you make an attack roll with this magic weapon and hit, you can have it deal Lightning damage instead of Piercing damage.
Lightning Bolt. When you throw this weapon at a target no farther than 120 feet from you, you can forgo making a ranged attack roll and instead turn the weapon into a bolt of lightning. This bolt forms a 5-foot-wide Line between you and the target. The target and each other creature in the Line (excluding you) makes a DC 13 Dexterity saving throw, taking 4d6 Lightning damage on a failed save or half as much damage on a successful one. Immediately after dealing this damage, the weapon reappears in your hand. This property can't be used again until the next dawn.

Pole of Collapsing

Wondrous Item, Common
This item functions as a Pole. While holding it, you can take a Magic action to collapse it into a 1-foot-long rod for ease of storage (the pole's weight doesn't change) or cause the 1-foot-long rod to revert to a Pole. The rod elongates only as far as the surrounding space allows.

Potion of Healing

Potion, Common
This potion is a magic item. As a Bonus Action, you can drink it or administer it to another creature within 5 feet of yourself. The creature that drinks the magical red fluid in this vial regains 2d4 + 2 Hit Points.

Sovereign Glue

Wondrous Item, Legendary
This viscous, milky-white substance can form a permanent adhesive bond between any two objects. It must be stored in a jar or flask that has been coated inside with Oil of Slipperiness. When found, a container contains 1d6 + 1 ounces.
One ounce of the glue can cover a 1-foot square surface. Applying an ounce of Sovereign Glue takes a Utilize action, and the applied glue takes 1 minute to set. Once it has done so, the bond it creates can be broken only by the application of Universal Solvent or Oil of Etherealness, or with a Wish spell.

Sword of Life Stealing

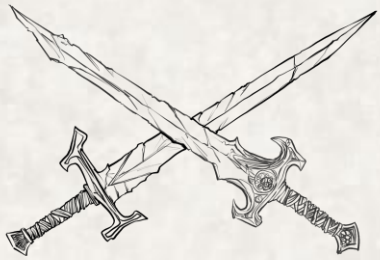
Weapon (Glaive, Greatsword, Longsword, Rapier, Scimitar, or Shortsword), Rare (Requires Attunement)
When you attack a creature with this magic weapon and roll a 20 on the d20 for the attack roll, that target takes an extra 15 Necrotic damage if it isn't a Construct or an Undead, and you gain Temporary Hit Points equal to the amount of Necrotic damage taken.

Universal Solvent

Wondrous Item, Legendary
This tube holds milky liquid with a strong alcohol smell. When found, a tube contains 1d6 + 1 ounces.
You can take a Utilize action to pour 1 or more ounces of solvent from the tube onto a surface within reach. Each ounce instantly dissolves up to 1 square foot of adhesive it touches, including Sovereign Glue.

Wand of the War Mage +1

Wand, Uncommon (+1), Rare (+2), or Very Rare (+3) (Requires Attunement by a Spellcaster)
While holding this wand, you gain a bonus to spell attack rolls determined by the wand's rarity. In addition, you ignore Half Cover when making a spell attack roll.



Spells

Charm Person

Level 1 Enchantment
Casting Time: Action
Range: 30 feet
Components: V, S
Duration: 1 hour
One Humanoid you can see within range makes a Wisdom saving throw. It does so with Advantage if you or your allies are fighting it. On a failed save, the target has the Charmed condition until the spell ends or until you or your allies damage it. The Charmed creature is Friendly to you. When the spell ends, the target knows it was Charmed by you.
Using a Higher-Level Spell Slot. You can target one additional creature for each spell slot level above 1.

Chill Touch

Level 0 Necromancy
Casting Time: Action
Range: Touch
Components: V, S
Duration: Instantaneous
Channeling the chill of the grave, make a melee spell attack against a target within reach. On a hit, the target takes 1d10 Necrotic damage, and it can't regain Hit Points until the end of your next turn.
Cantrip Upgrade. The damage increases by 1d10 when you reach levels 5 (2d10), 11 (3d10), and 17 (4d10).

Clairvoyance

Level 3 Divination
Casting Time: 10 minutes
Range: 1 mile
Components: V, S, M (a focus worth 100+ GP, either a jeweled horn for hearing or a glass eye for seeing)
Duration: Concentration, up to 10 minutes
You create an Invisible sensor within range in a location familiar to you (a place you have visited or seen before) or in an obvious location that is unfamiliar to you (such as behind a door, around a corner, or in a grove of trees). The intangible, invulnerable sensor remains in place for the duration. When you cast the spell, choose seeing or hearing. You can use the chosen sense through the sensor as if you were in its space. As a Bonus Action, you can switch between seeing and hearing. A creature that sees the sensor (such as a creature benefiting from See Invisibility or Truesight) sees a luminous orb about the size of your fist.

Comprehend Languages

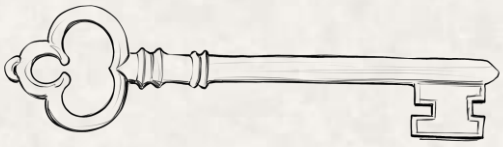
Level 1 Divination
Casting Time: Action or Ritual
Range: Self
Components: V, S, M (a pinch of soot and salt)
Duration: 1 hour
For the duration, you understand the literal meaning of any language that you hear or see signed. You also understand any written language that you see, but you must be touching the surface on which the words are written. It takes about 1 minute to read one page of text. This spell doesn't decode symbols or secret messages.

Dancing Lights

Level 0 Illusion
Casting Time: Action
Range: 120 feet
Components: V, S, M (a bit of phosphorus)
Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute
You create up to four torch-size lights within range, making them appear as torches, lanterns, or glowing orbs that hover for the duration. Alternatively, you combine the four lights into one glowing Medium form that is vaguely humanlike. Whichever form you choose, each light sheds Dim Light in a 10-foot radius.
As a Bonus Action, you can move the lights up to 60 feet to a space within range. A light must be within 20 feet of another light created by this spell, and a light vanishes if it exceeds the spell's range.

Daylight

Level 3 Evocation
Casting Time: Action
Range: 60 feet
Components: V, S
Duration: 1 hour
For the duration, sunlight spreads from a point within range and fills a 60-foot-radius Sphere. The sunlight's area is Bright Light and sheds Dim Light for an additional 60 feet. Alternatively, you cast the spell on an object that isn't being worn or carried, causing the sunlight to fill a 60-foot Emanation originating from that object. Covering that object with something opaque, such as a bowl or helm, blocks the sunlight. If any of this spell's area overlaps with an area of Darkness created by a spell of level 3 or lower, that other spell is dispelled.



Detect Evil and Good

Level 1 Divination
Casting Time: Action
Range: Self
Components: V, S
Duration: Concentration, up to 10 minutes
For the duration, you sense the location of any Aberration, Celestial, Elemental, Fey, Fiend, or Undead within 30 feet of yourself. You also sense whether the Hallow spell is active there and, if so, where.
The spell is blocked by 1 foot of stone, dirt, or wood; 1 inch of metal; or a thin sheet of lead.

Detect Magic

Level 1 Divination
Casting Time: Action or Ritual
Range: Self
Components: V, S
Duration: Concentration, up to 10 minutes
For the duration, you sense the presence of magical effects within 30 feet of yourself. If you sense such effects, you can take the Magic action to see a faint aura around any visible creature or object in the area that bears the magic, and if an effect was created by a spell, you learn the spell's school of magic.
The spell is blocked by 1 foot of stone, dirt, or wood; 1 inch of metal; or a thin sheet of lead.

Disguise Self

Level 1 Illusion
Casting Time: Action
Range: Self
Components: V, S
Duration: 1 hour
You make yourself - including your clothing, armor, weapons, and other belongings on your person - look different until the spell ends. You can seem 1 foot shorter or taller and can appear heavier or lighter. You must adopt a form that has the same basic arrangement of limbs as you have. Otherwise, the extent of the illusion is up to you. The changes wrought by this spell fail to hold up to physical inspection. For example, if you use this spell to add a hat to your outfit, objects pass through the hat, and anyone who touches it would feel nothing.
To discern that you are disguised, a creature must take the Study action to inspect your appearance and succeed on an Intelligence (Investigation) check against your spell save DC.

Evard's Black Tentacles

Level 4 Conjuration
Casting Time: Action
Range: 90 feet
Components: V, S, M (a tentacle)
Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute
Squirming, ebony tentacles fill a 20-foot square on ground that you can see within range. For the duration, these tentacles turn the ground in that area into Difficult Terrain. Each creature in that area makes a Strength saving throw. On a failed save, it takes 3d6 Bludgeoning damage, and it has the Restrained condition until the spell ends. A creature also makes that save if it enters the area or ends it turn there. A creature makes that save only once per turn. A Restrained creature can take an action to make a Strength (Athletics) check against your spell save DC, ending the condition on itself on a success.

Galder's Tower

3rd-level conjuration
Casting Time: 10 minutes
Range: 30 feet
Components: V, S, M (a fragment of stone, wood, or other building material)
Duration: 24 hours
You conjure a two-story tower made of stone, wood, or similar suitably sturdy materials. The tower can be round or square in shape. Each level of the tower is 10 feet tall and has an area of up to 100 square feet. Access between levels consists of a simple ladder and hatch. Each level takes one of the following forms, chosen by you when you cast the spell:

- A bedroom with a bed, chairs, chest, and magical fireplace
- A study with desks, books, bookshelves, parchments, ink, and ink pens
- A dining space with a table, chairs, magical fireplace, containers, and cooking utensils
- A lounge with couches, armchairs, side tables and footstools
- A washroom with toilets, washtubs, a magical brazier, and sauna benches
- An observatory with a telescope and maps of the night sky
- An unfurnished, empty room

The interior of the tower is warm and dry, regardless of conditions outside. Any equipment or furnishings conjured with the tower dissipate into smoke if removed from it. At the end of the spell's duration, all creatures and objects within the tower that were not created by the spell appear safely outside on the ground, and all traces of the tower and its furnishings disappear.
You can cast this spell again while it is active to maintain the tower's existence for another 24 hours. You can create a permanent tower by casting this spell in the same location and with the same configuration every day for one year.
At Higher Levels. When you cast this spell using a spell slot of 4th level or higher, the tower can have one additional story for each slot level beyond 3rd.

Glyph of Warding

Level 3 Abjuration
Casting Time: 1 hour
Range: Touch
Components: V, S, M (powdered diamond worth 200+ GP, which the spell consumes)
Duration: Until dispelled or triggered
You inscribe a glyph that later unleashes a magical effect. You inscribe it either on a surface (such as a table or a section of floor) or within an object that can be closed (such as a book or chest) to conceal the glyph. The glyph can cover an area no larger than 10 feet in diameter. If the surface or object is moved more than 10 feet from where you cast this spell, the glyph is broken, and the spell ends without being triggered.
The glyph is nearly imperceptible and requires a successful Wisdom (Perception) check against your spell save DC to notice. When you inscribe the glyph, you set its trigger and choose whether it's an explosive rune or a spell glyph, as explained below.
Set the Trigger. You decide what triggers the glyph when you cast the spell. For glyphs inscribed on a surface, common triggers include touching or stepping on the glyph, removing another object covering it, or approaching within a certain distance of it. For glyphs inscribed within an object, common triggers include opening that object or seeing the glyph. Once a glyph is triggered, this spell ends. You can refine the trigger so that only creatures of certain types activate it (for example, the glyph could be set to affect Aberrations). You can also set conditions for creatures that don't trigger the glyph, such as those who say a certain password.

Explosive Rune. When triggered, the glyph erupts with magical energy in a 20-foot-radius Sphere centered on the glyph. Each creature in the area makes a Dexterity saving throw. A creature takes 5d8 Acid, Cold, Fire, Lightning, or Thunder damage (your choice when you create the glyph) on a failed save or half as much damage on a successful one.

Spell Glyph. You can store a prepared spell of level 3 or lower in the glyph by casting it as part of creating the glyph. The spell must target a single creature or an area. The spell being stored has no immediate effect when cast in this way.

When the glyph is triggered, the stored spell takes effect. If the spell has a target, it targets the creature that triggered the glyph. If the spell affects an area, the area is centered on that creature. If the spell summons Hostile creatures or creates harmful objects or traps, they appear as close as possible to the intruder and attack it. If the spell requires Concentration, it lasts until the end of its full duration.

Using a Higher-Level Spell Slot. The damage of an explosive rune increases by 1d8 for each spell slot level above 3. If you create a spell glyph, you can store any spell of up to the same level as the spell slot you use for the Glyph of Warding.

Hypnotic Pattern

Level 3 Illusion
Casting Time: Action
Range: 120 feet
Components: S, M (a pinch of confetti)
Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute

You create a twisting pattern of colors in a 30-foot Cube within range. The pattern appears for a moment and vanishes. Each creature in the area who can see the pattern must succeed on a Wisdom saving throw or have the Charmed condition for the duration. While Charmed, the creature has the Incapacitated condition and a Speed of 0. The spell ends for an affected creature if it takes any damage or if someone else uses an action to shake the creature out of its stupor.

Invisibility

Level 2 Illusion
Casting Time: Action
Range: Touch
Components: V, S, M (an eyelash in gum arabic)
Duration: Concentration, up to 1 hour

A creature you touch has the Invisible condition until the spell ends. The spell ends early immediately after the target makes an attack roll, deals damage, or casts a spell.

Using a Higher-Level Spell Slot. You can target one additional creature for each spell slot level above 2.

Light

Level 0 Evocation
Casting Time: Action
Range: Touch
Components: V, M (a firefly or phosphorescent moss)
Duration: 1 hour

You touch one Large or smaller object that isn't being worn or carried by someone else. Until the spell ends, the object sheds Bright Light in a 20-foot radius and Dim Light for an additional 20 feet. The light can be colored as you like. Covering the object with something opaque blocks the light. The spell ends if you cast it again.

Mage Armor

Level 1 Abjuration
Casting Time: Action
Range: Touch
Components: V, S, M (a piece of cured leather)
Duration: 8 hours

You touch a willing creature who isn't wearing armor. Until the spell ends, the target's base AC becomes 13 plus its Dexterity modifier. The spell ends early if the target dons armor.

Major Image

Level 3 Illusion
Casting Time: Action
Range: 120 feet
Components: V, S, M (a bit of fleece)
Duration: Concentration, up to 10 minutes

You create the image of an object, a creature, or some other visible phenomenon that is no larger than a 20-foot Cube. The image appears at a spot that you can see within range and lasts for the duration. It seems real, including sounds, smells, and temperature appropriate to the thing depicted, but it can't deal damage or cause conditions. If you are within range of the illusion, you can take a Magic action to cause the image to move to any other spot within range. As the image changes location, you can alter its appearance so that its movements appear natural for the image. For example, if you create an image of a creature and move it, you can alter the image so that it appears to be walking. Similarly, you can cause the illusion to make different sounds at different times, even making it carry on a conversation, for example.

Physical interaction with the image reveals it to be an illusion, for things can pass through it. A creature that takes a Study action to examine the image can determine that it is an illusion with a successful Intelligence (Investigation) check against your spell save DC. If a creature discerns the illusion for what it is, the creature can see through the image, and its other sensory qualities become faint to the creature.

Using a Higher-Level Spell Slot. The spell lasts until dispelled, without requiring Concentration, if cast with a level 4+ spell slot.

Melf's Minute Meteors

3rd-level evocation
Casting Time: 1 action
Range: Self
Components: V, S, M (niter, sulfur, and pine tar formed into a bead)
Duration: Concentration, up to 10 minutes
You create six tiny meteors in your space. They float in the air and orbit you for the spell's duration. When you cast the spell — and as a bonus action on each of your turns thereafter — you can expend one or two of the meteors, sending them streaking toward a point or points you choose within 120 feet of you. Once a meteor reaches its destination or impacts against a solid surface, the meteor explodes. Each creature within 5 feet of the point where the meteor explodes must make a Dexterity saving throw. A creature takes 2d6 fire damage on a failed save, or half as much damage on a successful one.
At Higher Levels. When you cast this spell using a spell slot of 4th level or higher, the number of meteors created increases by two for each slot level above 3rd.

Minor Illusion

Level 0 Illusion
Casting Time: Action
Range: 30 feet
Components: S, M (a bit of fleece)
Duration: 1 minute
You create a sound or an image of an object within range that lasts for the duration. See the descriptions below for the effects of each. The illusion ends if you cast this spell again.
If a creature takes a Study action to examine the sound or image, the creature can determine that it is an illusion with a successful Intelligence (Investigation) check against your spell save DC. If a creature discerns the illusion for what it is, the illusion becomes faint to the creature.
Sound. If you create a sound, its volume can range from a whisper to a scream. It can be your voice, someone else's voice, a lion's roar, a beating of drums, or any other sound you choose. The sound continues unabated throughout the duration, or you can make discrete sounds at different times before the spell ends.
Image. If you create an image of an object—such as a chair, muddy footprints, or a small chest—it must be no larger than a 5-foot Cube. The image can't create sound, light, smell, or any other sensory effect. Physical interaction with the image reveals it to be an illusion, since things can pass through it.

Phantasmal Force

Level 2 Illusion
Casting Time: Action
Range: 60 feet
Components: V, S, M (a bit of fleece)
Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute
You attempt to craft an illusion in the mind of a creature you can see within range. The target makes an Intelligence saving throw. On a failed save, you create a phantasmal object, creature, or other phenomenon that is no larger than a 10-foot Cube and that is perceivable only to the target for the duration. The phantasm includes sound, temperature, and other stimuli.
The target can take a Study action to examine the phantasm with an Intelligence (Investigation) check against your spell save DC. If the check succeeds, the target realizes that the phantasm is an illusion, and the spell ends. While affected by the spell, the target treats the phantasm as if it were real and rationalizes any illogical outcomes from interacting with it. For example, if the target steps through a phantasmal bridge and survives the fall, it believes the bridge exists and something else caused it to fall. An affected target can even take damage from the illusion if the phantasm represents a dangerous creature or hazard. On each of your turns, such a phantasm can deal 2d8 Psychic damage to the target if it is in the phantasm's area or within 5 feet of the phantasm. The target perceives the damage as a type appropriate to the illusion.

Prestidigitation

Level 0 Transmutation
Casting Time: Action
Range: 10 feet
Components: V, S
Duration: Up to 1 hour
You create a magical effect within range. Choose the effect from the options below. If you cast this spell multiple times, you can have up to three of its non-instantaneous effects active at a time.
Sensory Effect. You create an instantaneous, harmless sensory effect, such as a shower of sparks, a puff of wind, faint musical notes, or an odd odor.
Fire Play. You instantaneously light or snuff out a candle, a torch, or a small campfire.
Clean or Soil. You instantaneously clean or soil an object no larger than 1 cubic foot.
Minor Sensation. You chill, warm, or flavor up to 1 cubic foot of nonliving material for 1 hour.
Magic Mark. You make a color, a small mark, or a symbol appear on an object or a surface for 1 hour.
Minor Creation. You create a nonmagical trinket or an illusory image that can fit in your hand. It lasts until the end of your next turn. A trinket can deal no damage and has no monetary worth.

Revivify

Level 3 Necromancy
Casting Time: Action
Range: Touch
Components: V, S, M (a diamond worth 300+ GP, which the spell consumes)
Duration: Instantaneous
You touch a creature that has died within the last minute. That creature revives with 1 Hit Point. This spell can't revive a creature that has died of old age, nor does it restore any missing body parts.

Silent Image

Level 1 Illusion
Casting Time: Action
Range: 60 feet
Components: V, S, M (a bit of fleece)
Duration: Concentration, up to 10 minutes
You create the image of an object, a creature, or some other visible phenomenon that is no larger than a 15-foot Cube. The image appears at a spot within range and lasts for the duration. The image is purely visual; it isn't accompanied by sound, smell, or other sensory effects.
As a Magic action, you can cause the image to move to any spot within range. As the image changes location, you can alter its appearance so that its movements appear natural for the image. For example, if you create an image of a creature and move it, you can alter the image so that it appears to be walking. Physical interaction with the image reveals it to be an illusion, since things can pass through it. A creature that takes a Study action to examine the image can determine that it is an illusion with a successful Intelligence (Investigation) check against your spell save DC. If a creature discerns the illusion for what it is, the creature can see through the image.

Sleep

Level 1 Enchantment
Casting Time: Action
Range: 60 feet
Components: V, S, M (a pinch of sand or rose petals)
Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute
Each creature of your choice in a 5-foot-radius Sphere centered on a point within range must succeed on a Wisdom saving throw or have the Incapacitated condition until the end of its next turn, at which point it must repeat the save. If the target fails the second save, the target has the Unconscious condition for the duration. The spell ends on a target if it takes damage or someone within 5 feet of it takes an action to shake it out of the spell's effect. Creatures that don't sleep, such as elves, or that have Immunity to the Exhaustion condition automatically succeed on saves against this spell.

Spare the Dying

Level 0 Necromancy
Casting Time: Action
Range: 15 feet
Components: V, S
Duration: Instantaneous
Choose a creature within range that has 0 Hit Points and isn't dead. The creature becomes Stable.
Cantrip Upgrade. The range doubles when you reach levels 5 (30 feet), 11 (60 feet), and 17 (120 feet).

Speak with Animals

Level 1 Divination
Casting Time: Action or Ritual
Range: Self
Components: V, S
Duration: 10 minutes
For the duration, you can comprehend and verbally communicate with Beasts, and you can use any of the Influence action's skill options with them.
Most Beasts have little to say about topics that don't pertain to survival or companionship, but at minimum, a Beast can give you information about nearby locations and monsters, including whatever it has perceived within the past day.

Wall of Fire

Level 4 Evocation
Casting Time: Action
Range: 120 feet
Components: V, S, M (a piece of charcoal)
Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute
You create a wall of fire on a solid surface within range. You can make the wall up to 60 feet long, 20 feet high, and 1 foot thick, or a ringed wall up to 20 feet in diameter, 20 feet high, and 1 foot thick. The wall is opaque and lasts for the duration. When the wall appears, each creature in its area makes a Dexterity saving throw, taking 5d8 Fire damage on a failed save or half as much damage on a successful one. One side of the wall, selected by you when you cast this spell, deals 5d8 Fire damage to each creature that ends its turn within 10 feet of that side or inside the wall. A creature takes the same damage when it enters the wall for the first time on a turn or ends its turn there. The other side of the wall deals no damage.
Using a Higher-Level Spell Slot. The damage increases by 1d8 for each spell slot level above 4.

Zone of Truth

Level 2 Enchantment
Casting Time: Action
Range: 60 feet
Components: V, S
Duration: 10 minutes
You create a magical zone that guards against deception in a 15-foot-radius Sphere centered on a point within range. Until the spell ends, a creature that enters the spell's area for the first time on a turn or starts its turn there makes a Charisma saving throw. On a failed save, a creature can't speak a deliberate lie while in the radius. You know whether a creature succeeds or fails on this save. An affected creature is aware of the spell and can avoid answering questions to which it would normally respond with a lie. Such a creature can be evasive yet must be truthful.

Protect Sword Coast from the Wrath of the Dragon Queen!

The fragile peace of the Delimbiyr Vale is disturbed once more. There is unsettling activity in the normally quiet nearby High Forest. This typically sleepy gateway to the Unicorn Run is precariously close to the epicenter of Tiamat's plans on wreaking her revenge on the metallic dragons which could, if not thwarted, threaten Sword Coast and all of Faerûn!
